

Eurasian Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences

"Khoja mazgil ota"

Mirzayev Nuriddin Faxriddinovich

Assistant to the press secretary of Mirzachul district administration

ABSTRACT

In addition, this shrine is a very important place for us from the distant past. At the same time, by drawing public attention to this destination, it is our priority to convey it to the next generation as much as possible

Keywords:

Historical rarity, architectural monuments, greatest scholar, Turkestan ridge, al-Ansab book, Imam Samani, Muzgil, Beshpanja

Samarkand is one of the places of Uzbekistan with a rich tourist potential. It occupies a leading position in the republic due to its geographical location and wealth of natural and cultural resources.

This unique city, located in the central part of the Zarafshan oasis, has been a center of sedentary life, irrigated agriculture, science and development since time immemorial, and is rightly recognized as one of the cultural cradles of mankind in world history. Samarkand surprises the whole world not only with its long past, but also with its unique present.

Internationally recognized and highly influential Internet publications recognized Samarkand as one of the 50 cities in the world that a person must visit at least once in his lifetime.

The ninth President of the World Bank, James David Wolfenson, who visited Samarkand, said: "For the next 40 years, I have traveled almost all over the world, but I have never seen a place like Samarkand." According to tourists from America: "There is only one Paris and one Samarkand in the world." According to one of the popular French magazines: "Samarkand is becoming a city that excites the imagination. If you close your eyes and pronounce the word "Samarkand" in a gentle tone, beautiful and magical scenes will appear in your imagination, just like in fairy tales.

The 2750-year-old "Jewel of the East" with its charm and uniqueness is today the center of attention of visitors from different parts of the world. In this regard, the extensive implementation of Resolution No. 450 of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated June 30, 2017 "On measures to rapidly develop the tourism potential of Samarkand city and Samarkand region in 2017-2019" As a result of large-scale reforms, today more than 7,000 rare historical monuments, shrines and unique architectural monuments have been identified in our country.

It is one of such auspicious shrines "Khoja mazgil ota" in "Khoja Mazgil" district, Bulung'ur district, Samarkand region. The history of this shrine is Imam al-Muttaqin Abu Muzahim Vazoriy goes back to the scholar of fiqh and hadith. In the territory of the current Bulung'ur district he was born in 819 in the ancient Vazor region and died in 883. In this country one of the greatest scholars who spread the first Islam. "Khoja Mazgil Ota" is located 70 km away from Samarkand city in Bulungur district "Khoja Mazgil" MFY in the south-east of ancient Samarkand at the western foot of the Turkestan ridge and 35 km. Bulungur district, east of Kildon village, in "Khoja Mazgil" area. The grave of the saint is located on the top of the hill, where a concrete staircase leads. The object of appreciation is the saint's grave, a source of underground water at the foot of the hill in the courtyard of the mosque, and a mulberry tree. This place is very famous and respected among local people. Many legends tell about the real healing power of this land. It was believed and believed that visiting the holy place helps to cure various diseases and get rid of infertility. At the entrance to the territory, on the left side, there is a mosque and next to it is a sacred mulberry tree, which, according to the old residents, is more than 500 years old.

There is an opinion that you can make a wish come true by touching the trunk of a tree.

According to the legend, a healing spring appeared where the fingers of the saint's right hand touched. And if you look carefully, the water really flows from the place where three fingers touch. A special visit to his grave to do taju-islam went to Imam Sam'ani Vazor and it was done by his "Al "Ansab" book. Imam Sam'ani in his work when he refers to the famous imam simply as "faqeh", "muhaddis", "imam", Imam Vazori is called "fazil of Samarkand, famous and great in religion" that he wrote that he was one of the scholars. How great Imam Vazori is means that he is one of the imams. In 2018, the regional government of Samarkand at the request of the management, a working group of scientists was formed, In the process of researching the shrine, the tomb of the Great Imam was discovered as "Khoji mazgil ota" is defined from the region. "Khoji mazgil" is a meaningless term, In the name of Imam Abu Muzahim Vazori The name "Imam Muzakhim" has been called "Muzhim" for a thousand years, then Muzgim. Later, when he settled as "Muzgil", he became "Khoja", "Ota".additions were added, resulting in the term "Khoji Mazgil Ota" comes and grows in the minds of our people. "This is another one of the miracles at the shrine of Father Khoja Mazgil is a healing spring, this spring that seeps out of the rock is our people in the language it is called "Beshpanja". Various rashes and wounds on the body of a person who washes from this spring will heal and disappear. People with stomach disease will recover.

Based on the above, it can be concluded that today Samarkand is becoming more beautiful in every way, its historical appearance and fame are resounding all over the world with its great monuments and unique historical buildings, such as the shrine of "Khoja Mazgil ota".

Sources:

1. www.google.uz
2. www.samarkand.uz
3. Press service of the General Directorate of Tourism and Sports of Samarkand region.
4. Kattaev Komilhon., Shrines and Shrines of Uzbekistan. Tashkent. 2016.