In recent years, our country has taken measures to teach foreign languages. Especially, Resolution of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated 11.08.2017 "On measures to further improve the quality of teaching foreign languages in educational institutions." In May 2021, a video conference chaired by Shavkat Mirziyoyev was held on measures to improve the system of teaching foreign languages. The meeting discussed a wide range of opportunities and benefits for teachers and students. Learning foreign languages, especially English, in our country It was stressed once again that the need is important at the state level, all the necessary conditions and opportunities have been created.

New methods of teaching English in educational institutions such as preschools, schools, vocational colleges and academic lyceums, universities, approaches, new school textbooks and manuals are being developed created. From the 2017-2018 academic year, the level of foreign language acquisition at all stages of the system of continuing education is defined in the state educational standards "Listening", "Reading", "Written". , An assessment mechanism based on speech ability has been developed and put into practice.

Because the foundation of language learning is laid in schools, this process poses a number of challenges, especially for school-based teachers. How to attract first graders to English? What are the modern methods of teaching foreign languages?

What additional factors help you learn a foreign language?

There are also those who have just started school and find it difficult to write in their mother tongue

It is not easy to teach English to students as a foreign language. Teachers to be a professional in their field, in textbooks be able to use products properly using information technology tools

It's important to use them effectively to engage students earns income.

Teachers who do not use multimedia tools:

1. In the first place, students are more likely to be passive during class;
2. Due to the large number of students in the class, study the topic efficiency decreases;

3. The teacher has problems in the classroom, such as focusing on one point, and so on.

Use of modern methods by teachers, acquaintance with student psychology, individual approach to each child in due course helps the teacher. There are many things to consider when teaching a foreign language studied by scientists. In particular: G. Lozanov - psychotherapist, medicine

The Bulgarian doctor of sciences focused on the study of the possibilities of human internal reserves.

He began to study 3 important factors:

1. Opening memory reserves;
2. To study the intellectual activity of the student;
3. Positive emotion, (loses the feeling of fatigue).

The role and authority of the teacher; the relationship between teacher and student; mutual trust, high level of motivation, individual's internal reserve capacity open

Every teacher is really talented. How to do it depends on the teachers. This is also a good idea when it comes to learning English.

From the factors studied by Lozanov, it can be concluded that if the methods, if the approaches are organized appropriately by foreign language teachers, each a foreign language can be taught to a student while arousing their interest. School students may also experience drowsiness or drowsiness in class, all

It's no secret to teachers. That's the question of how to overcome it

We can answer:

- 1) in the study of speech units;
- 2) encourage students to use the richness of language, vocabulary in the process of speaking a foreign language, in developing skills to apply the learned speech unit in another situation;
- 3) in creating high motivation;
- 4) the presence of psychological barriers (shyness, fear, inhumanity) gives very good results in throwing.²

And last but not least, the headline made you read this article

There are also factors related to language learning. These are:

1. Good command of the mother tongue. If children can't think well in Uzbek, If you don't follow the grammar rules, it will be difficult to learn English.
2. Words that are not well memorized or memorized quickly most kids who forget don't do math well will be.
3. The problem of pronunciation in speech. This is natural, of course. Because ours every day in our state we communicate with native English speakers we have almost no chance. In this case, watching cartoons in English, Listening to songs and watching movies can help you lose the accent of speech.
